Experience the Life of a Child with Special Needs

by

Amy Weseloh

Amy is the director of Fox Valley Home Day Care, parent of two children with special needs and cares for children with special needs.

Amy is an Illinois Trainer Network trainer who educates other child care professionals in curriculum relating to child care, including Special Care, caring for children with special needs, an introduction to the Environmental Rating Scales (ERS), a tool used to assess the quality of the child care environment and IL Early Learning Standards, ages 3-5, which provides information about meeting the standards through curriculum.

Join us for this informative program about developmental issues that affect young children and their families. Parents, teachers and director/administrators will all benefit from this workshop
